It's good to turn a wheel and drive

It's a strange thing and a charming thing
To be a bird in the air.

But I envy grandfather now and then Though he could not drive so fast, He knew as a friend every horse he

NIGHTINGALE

Ted Stoodley had the misfortune to break his arm close to his shoulder as a result of a fall from a horse.
Mrs. Louise Stoodley of Hollywood, California, is spending a few weeks visiting with her sister Mrs. Hartman.
The concert and dance sponsored by the Women's Institute was well patronized. Dr. Clifton gave an interesting address on cancer. He particularly stressed early care for cure and care following treatments. Later in the evening he sang two numbers, which were well received. Mr. Patrick songs met with the usual approval and Miss Edith Hietie's violin selections were greatly appreciated. Local people who assisted with the concert were Mr. and Mrs. Jensen, Myrtle Stoodley, Betty Stoodley, Milla Harrigan, Doris Putnam, Doris Hill, Conny Stoodley, Gertrude Schmitt and Mrs. Thumson. The ladies of the Institute take this opportunity of thanking all who so kindly assisted.

Mrs. Fletcher and her daughter Miss Margaret are enjoying a holiday with the Newall family.

Mr. and Mrs. James May of Cluny were week end visitors with friends here.

ited at the home of Mr. Fred Anstice Sunday afternoon.

Cutting is general throughout the district and won't be long before the click of the binder is heard from early morning till late at night. Saturday evening we had a nervous few minutes when we saw those clouds gathering up in the west, but was thankful we had just a little hail and did very little damage in the immediate district.
Let's hope we get no more for another month at least.

ONLY SIX YEARS OLD BUT HAS SWELL TIME ACROSS CANADA

Winnipeg, Man.— George may not be the youngest passenger who has come from a home in the Old Land to a new home in Canada, unaccompanied, but he certainly can boast of being the owner of the longest name.

He passed through Winnipeg recently over Canadian National Lines enroute to Vancouver, where he will live with his uncle, Harry Pappas, 5500 Quilness Ave.

His name is George Pappascontantinos.
He is six years old and small for his age.
But he was the most important passenger on the Continental Limited.
He comes from Greece and can't speak a word of English. He is such a bright smiling and happy little chap that attention is showered on him from all angles. When spoken to he picks up his mouth again and plays his answer, and the merry twinkle in his eyes expresses complete delight in his long trip.

He has no idea where Vancouver is or when the journey will end. All he seems to be concerned about is the fact that he is having a swell time on the big train.

MITCHELL GARRIOTT WRITES FROM ENGLAND

British people see a New Canada in the people who have sung their way into the hearts of even British statesmen with the new song hit called "Horsey".

Twenty-five Canadians travelled from Regina to Montreal by colonist car, cooking their own meals all the way.

They are the Youth Contingent of the Oxford Group who sailed straight to England and joined thirty-five other or Canadians from all parts of Canada.

A new motion picture is being made of the Youth Contingent. The "Horsey" song plays a big part in it.

The Rt. Hon. Malcolm McDonald attending them and hearing the song
"Horsey" pronounced it all very refreshing.

The youths are being welcomed to Worcester, England for a few days before they sail for Canada. Mitchell Garrriott, son of a local farmer will be among those visiting Worcester.

There are six Alberta young men in the party.

BEVERLY BAXTER IN McLEAN'S I repeat what I said in Toronto in 1935 and what I wrote six months later — that there is not going to be a great European war. The war of 1914 was criminal, but at least the nations that fought had something to lose. A European war now would be like the plowing of a battlefield, on could gain a bigger harvest by sowing seeds in a desert.

Here Hitler and Signor Mussolini know that if the British Fleet were ordered into action tomorrow and the British Air Force sent into the skies, Britain's enemies would take such punishment as history has never before recorded. They also know that this strength will not be used until outraged justice and a violated civilization can no longer endure the onslaught of events.

Therefore it comes back to the same equation. Can Great Britain with her idealism and her power, hold off the storm until the clouds divide and the sun shines once more upon the dark fields of Europe?

THE OIL INDUSTRY

Working capital invested in the Turner Valley oil area of Alberta, totalled in 1936: $1,600,000.00. The middle of 1937 finds a healthy increase, jumping from the million and a half figure to $12,800,000.00. These figures alone tell of the tremendous strides taken by the oil industry in this province.

We Appreciate Them

THE OTHER DAY WE ASKED A MAN FOR HIS PRINTING AND HE TOLD US:

"OH, OUR PRINTING DOESN'T AMOUNT TO MUCH. ALL WE HAVE IS A FEW SMALL ORDERS, AND NONE OF THEM EVER RUN INTO ANYTHING THAT LOOKS LIKE MONEY."

THOSE LITTLE ORDERS ARE THE KIND THAT MAKE OUR BUSINESS.

MOST OF OUR BUSINESS IS IN THE PRINTING OF LETTERHEADS, ENVELOPES, CIRCULARS, POSTERS, OFFICE FORMS, AND OTHER SMALL ORDERS.

WE APPRECIATE A SMALL ORDER AS WELL AS WE DO A BIG ONE.

SO, IF YOU HAVE ANY SMALL ORDERS FOR PRINTING, WE WANT YOU TO KNOW THAT WE ARE GLAD TO GET THEM. WE APPRECIATE THEM JUST AS MUCH—AND TAKE JUST AS GOOD CARE OF THEM—AS IF THEY ACTUALLY AMOUNTED TO HUNDREDS OF DOLLARS.

BEE KEEPING

Southern Alberta has proved a very hard place to winter bees. Just what is the cause of this is very hard to say but I suspect the dryness of the atmosphere, the winter wind and the enormous variation in winter range of temperature are all contributing factors.

One of the chief troubles is the extraordinary amount of condensation which takes place when a bottom entrance is used in winter. The bottom entrance does not seem to allow the warm moisture laden air from the cluster to escape without it first dropping most of its moisture. The moisture is dropped at the back of the bottom board and often results in a continuous drip from the entrance or freezes to as much as an inch or more at the back of the bottom board. No amount of insulation has any effect on this condition.

The top entrance was tried to overcome this but such an entrance allowed too quick an escape of the heat of the hive and created drafts. Elaborate entrances either imprisoned the bees or proved useless beyond their compensation. The most successful entrance has been to make a hole through the side of an ordinary cover being sure that the cover is so made that its inner part is raised from the frames half inch or more. This is done by nailing half inch square pieces around edges of the cover.

An inner cover with a hole in the very middle is then used and a passage of 2 inches by 1-4 inch is made from this hole in the inner cover to the hole in the cover proper.

With this type of entrance with inner passage the cold air from outside is partly warmed in passing along the passage over the inner cover before entering the hive and the warm moisture laden air can escape without condensing, but whatever entrance is used it does not mean that we can ever cut down on insulation and insulation methods will be explained in the next article. D. E. H.

A PRACTICAL NEW VENTURE

Two young men with a car containing several sacks of seed pulled into Taber three years ago. They visited after farm with indifferent success. They wanted the farmers to grow the raw material for making brooms, but the farmer was indifferent or incredulous. Too far north to reach maturity. Too cold. Too short a season, is what they said.

Finally after great difficulty they persuaded some ten farmers to try this new crop out with half an acre each. The corn grew; it grew tall and shot out straight brittle heads. The farmers were still incredulous. Don't look like much, is what they said.

The young men turned up again with another man in tow. A buyer from Ontario who pronounced the crop 100 per cent good and now Taber produces a regular crop of broom corn and there was talk of a broom factory but I do not know whether it is yet operating. Broom corn can be raised here in Strathmore. There is no reason why it could not. It merely needs a few farmers to try it out on half an acre each and associates to handle and sell the crop. Why should Ontario buy broom corn from Utah and Montana when it could buy from Strathmore in Alberta.

A BOY'S TRIBUTE TO HIS PONY

Your father never won no fame,
Your mother's party wasn't the same,
You're just an ordinary case,
They'll never raise no kind of fuss,
Over you.

You had an uncle pullin' freight,
Your aunt's a wall-eyed hammer-head You'll be no good until she's dead,
An' makin' glue.

Your gran-pap couldn't run a mile,
Your grandma left him after a while,
They never won a bit o' silk,
They stopped when someone hollered milk.
Such a pair.

With such a crazy family tree, I'm skeered 'thunk what you'll be,
Another spavined knock-kneed mutt, With funny ears and ideas but—I don't care!

RUSSIAN THISTLE FOR HAY

In dry years on the prairie, when no hay is available and grain crops are almost a failure, Russian thistle may be used as hay to supplement the feed supply.

For hay purposes it should be cut when fully green. This means when the spines are soft. When the spines commence to harden and become prickly it is difficult to cut and make a hay of low feeding value. The hay should be raked immediately after cutting and stacked as soon as possible. The usual procedure is to stack in 1-2 afternoon the portion that was cut in the morning. In stacking, use long, narrow, large stacks. It does not cure well in small stacks. Tramping when stacking is important to keep the hay in better condition.

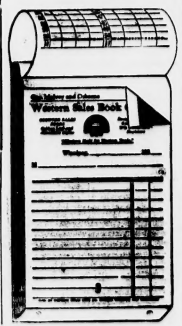

When properly cut and cured, Russian thistle has comparatively high feeding value. It has more protein and fat than most hays. On the other hand it contains twice as much ash. Much of this ash consists of salts which are laxative. Consequently, it is always advisable to feed it in conjunction with other roughage. Animals consume more water when Russian thistle hay is being fed. Farmers report that stock does well and coveys give a good flow of milk when Russian thistle is used as part of the feed. The important thing to remember is not to feed laxative feeds with Russian thistle, but to feed about half and half with hay, straw or other available roughage.

AN ODD FRIEND

Incident of Victoria has fed Sea-gull for eight winters.

After being fed from the hands of

W. B. Ryan of Victoria, B. C. for 8

winters this sea gull should know his benefactor—and does.

Mr. Ryan instigated a few of the unusual things his odd feathered friend has done.

Once the big bird flew to the hood of his automobile while he was a block away and awaited Ryan's arrival.

Several times it has appeared at his club and clamored for a snack.

A member of the firm, employing Ryan was embarrassed by the gull fluttering down the street after Ryan.

The gull shows up every year. In October and leaves in April, shortly before he leaves on his annual flight

he brings along his new mate for Ry-
